de.NBI SUMMER SCHOOL 2019 (BIO) DATA SCIENCE

Apply now for the de.NBI Summer School 2019

Deadline. 5 July 2019

The life sciences are an important player in the age of Big Data. Modern high-throughput omics technologies produce large quantities of high-dimensional data. Besides new challenges for analyzing and visualizing this amount of research data, also the management and sharing has become an important point in the daily research process. The major goal of the de.NBI Summer School 2019 is to give an overview about possibilities for a FAIR data sharing and their benefits for data producers as well as data consumers and furthermore to provide a brief introduction to recent technologies to process and inspect these data.

The 5th de.NBI Summer School on (Bio)Data Science takes place 02-06 September 2019 at the Leibniz Institute of Plant Genetics and Crop Plant Research (IPK) in Gatersleben.

This training will be of interest to Life Scientists, Bioinformaticians, Computer Scientists, Systems Biologists, Synthetic Biologists and others working or interested in the field of (bio)research data.

The program features lectures and hands-ons about

- FAIR, the FAIR principles, rules, and measuring FAIRness
- Statistics
- Visualization and statistics modeling
- Introduction and Hands-on to KNIME
- GFBio Data Management
- Hands-on de.NBI Cloud computing
- Deep learning and Image Analysis
- FAIR Data Management in labs & data publication
- Data Privacy
- 2 Keynote Lectures (topics tba)

2ND de.NBI CLOUD USER MEETING

CLOUD USER MEETING² HEIDELBERG

The 2nd de.NBI Cloud User Meeting is a 3-day event (03-05 Sep 2019) at BioQuant in Heidelberg for scientists interested in bioinformatics, cloud computing or big data. Due to the diversity of approaches that arise in this exciting and rapidly evolving cloud computing technology niche, this meeting should help to exchange ideas and approaches in the growing de.NBI Cloud Community.

We aim to equip our attendees, from beginner to expert, with comprehensive understanding of the very broad applications and benefits of the de.NBI Cloud. This event is your chance to meet users, developers and administrators of the de.NBI Cloud. We feature topics from introduction or use case talks to simply introduce different technologies (OpenStack, Docker, Kubernetes, Nextflow,) to tutorials and workshops that will help you to understand how to actually apply the technology in your research.

Registration is now open!

COMBINE 2019, Heidelberg, 15-19 July 2019

This year's meeting is organized by the de.NBI-SysBio team at HITS Heidelberg. The "Computational Modeling in Biology Network" (COMBINE) is an initiative to coordinate the development of the various community standards and formats in systems biology, synthetic biology and related fields. COMBINE 2019 will be a workshop-style event with invited lectures, oral presentations and posters, but also reserving enough time for afternoon breakout sessions. The five meeting days will include talks about the COMBINE standards and associated or related standardization efforts, as well as presentations of tools using these standards and similar topics. Some oral presentations will be selected from the abstracts submitted by the attendees. In addition, poster sessions will allow people to inform each other about their software and other projects in a setting that fosters interaction and in-depth discussion. The first day (Monday 15 July) will be a colloquium day celebrating the 10th anniversary of the COMBINE network. One of these is a de.NBI colloquium. Abstract submission closes on 31 May 2019, registration is possible until 15 June 2019.
